Mr. James Dougall, Windsor, Ontario, has a high opinion of the sweet chestnut (Castanea vesca). It is a large and handsome tree, and is very profitable when grown upon suitable soil. The nuts fall to the ground when ripe, and bring a good price. A farmer who had a grove near his house made as much from the trees as he did from the rest of his land of fifty acres. The timber also is valuable and durable.

Mischief Lurks in undrained pools and poorly-planned drains at many a fashionable summer-resort. Visitors are often prostrated by ma-larious influences when they least expect it. At such a time it is a happy thing to have Perry Davis's Pain-Killer at hand for instant use. Captain Hodgden, of the "Golcher," writes that when attacked with cholera-morbus in the terribly malarious climate of the Panama Isthmus he was re-stored in three hours by the use of it. His wife and the sailors on board his vessel were attacked in like manner, and found in "PAIN-KILLER" the relief which speedily restored them.
